EVIDENCE OF WHAT THE DEVELOPERS INTENTION Hi,I'm Tonik, a developer that has already made two games and some experiments and I am currently making a new game for Playstation 4, which is the following, it's an online game in which the player is in charge of a representative of the planet Earth called the President. In this game we do not know yet how much and where are the players going to go. But I can assure you that it's going to be in a kind of urban and futuristic place. The point of this game is to be a kind of simulator of what the developers are going to do. When they are already creating a new game, they must consider something called "event". This is something that is in the mind of the developers to know what he's going to do in this game and it's exactly what we are doing right now. For example, if the developer has already made a kind of strategy game, like the name of that game suggests, he can create something like a city and to be able to divide his city into several buildings of different types ( like if you have a city divided into large buildings, middle buildings and small buildings ) and then you have to know the population of each one of those buildings and in each one of them ( like what kind of people are living there, what is the income of the people, what is the security of the people, etc etc ). Therefore this simulation of events in an artificial city is exactly what we are going to do right now because they can know how it works in real life. In the following video, we are going to see how it works in real life. For the next demo, let's see how the process of government works. GOV'T AND RULE: FOUR TYPES OF GOVERNMENT We have in the world four types of government. All of them must be very well understood by the developer. Democracies and republics, oligarchies and monarchies, monarchy with limited monarchy and an absolute monarchy. DEMOCRACY Basically, it's a system in which the people are in charge of their own government. So they decide about everything ( that's what it's called: "Democracy", that is the Greek meaning of

Project Highrise The Plaza Westend Mitte is located in the heart of Berlin's style and design district. The 43-story high-rise office tower in Berlin is 100 meters distant from the classic Reichstag building, the Old Reichstag, and the redeveloped Neues Münster, and offers one of the best views over Central Berlin. Being centrally located in the trendiest area of Berlin, the project offers a premium and unmistakable finish that is the most sought after in its location. Here is our strategic growth offer for you: We offer a flexible and benchmark fit-out providing you with the fast improvement of your fit-out projects. We are able to provide you with either a 3, 4, 6, 8 or more floors office fit-out. We can make excellent use of the floorspace offered to us. Depending on your wishes, we can provide you with bespoke designs for your office interiors. The Project Highrise office building, Berlin The new building was originally planned to be built above the existing service building of the famous Bodeweserart company. The deadline for the construction was agreed with Bodeweserart in 2004. During the planning, obstacles arose that made it necessary to adapt the floor plan of the existing service buildings. Bodeweserart found alternative solutions and consequently decided to build a new building. The decoration is based on the Bauhaus philosophy. The World Spirit can be identified in the practical combination of organic, screen-printed, and cut-out elements. Eclectic features and clever features are combined to form an internal and external design that incorporates technology and advanced heating and air conditioning technology. The interior fitting is a functional and coordinated matching of the architecture, styling and spatial concept of the entire project. The basis for the interior design were the spatial, thematic and functional requirements of the Bodeweserart Group. The common areas for the employees, namely the foyer, the café, the restaurant and the conference rooms, as well as the restrooms, are arranged in a balanced way on the ground floor. The highest level is located in the offices of the strategic project team. It offers an optional space, which is directly accessible from the corridor in the podium: It offers a space for interaction. Integrate technologies for health and social "Active
